ECO CANVAS; SEAN FLOOR SYMPHONY WALL: WALL ART

The Green Horizon initiative, as part of its comprehensive waste management awareness program, included a significant project focusing on highlighting the impact of marine pollution through wall art. This artwork was meticulously drawn by 20 dedicated green volunteers on the college premises, symbolizing their commitment to environmental conservation. Commencing on December 7th, the volunteers worked tirelessly to create the Eco Canvas sea floor symphony wall, showcasing the detrimental effects of marine pollution on our oceans and marine life.

Through creative expression and artistic depiction, the wall art served as a powerful visual reminder of the urgent need to address environmental issues, particularly marine pollution. The project aimed to raise awareness among students and the community about the critical importance of preserving our oceans and marine ecosystems.

The completed artwork was submitted on December 17th, marking the culmination of the volunteers' efforts. On December 18th, the Eco Canvas sea floor symphony wall was officially dedicated to the college, serving as a lasting testament to the collective commitment towards environmental stewardship.
