Introduction:

The Centre for Environmental Studies, Paryavaran Mitra, in collaboration with the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), organized a program on June 7, 2023, in commemoration of World Environment Day. The event aimed to raise awareness about environmental conservation and sustainable practices among the participants. The theme for the day, "Revive, Renew, Reimagine: Sustaining Our Earth, Our Legacy," emphasized the urgent need to protect and restore the environment for future generations.

Program Activities:

1. Talk on "Blossoming Harmony: Cultivating Ecological Consciousness for a Flourishing Tomorrow":

The event commenced with a thought-provoking talk delivered by Dr. Meera Asmi, the esteemed Guest of Honor and Chairwoman of the We Grow Forest Foundation. Dr. Asmi emphasized the importance of cultivating ecological consciousness and the role of every individual in creating a sustainable future. Her inspiring words encouraged the participants to take action and become agents of positive change.

2. Creating an Enriched Medicinal Garden through Collaboration with We Grow Forest Foundation via Cultivation and Dissemination of Medicinal Saplings:

As part of the program, the Centre for Environmental Studies collaborated with the We Grow Forest Foundation to establish an enriched medicinal garden. This initiative aimed to promote the importance of medicinal plants in sustainable healthcare practices. Participants actively engaged in the cultivation and dissemination of medicinal saplings, learning about the benefits of various plants and their role in traditional medicine.

3. "Unleashing Nature's Chronicles": Unveiling the Majestic 5th Edition E-Newsletter by the Centre for Environmental Studies and Eco Club:

The Centre for Environmental Studies and the Eco Club jointly unveiled the fifth edition of their e-newsletter, titled "Nature's Chronicles." The newsletter featured articles, interviews, and success stories related to environmental conservation and sustainable practices. The publication served as a platform for students to showcase their research, ideas, and initiatives.

4. Illustrating Environmental Awareness through Visual Presentations:

The participants showcased their creativity and environmental awareness through visual presentations. They prepared informative posters, photographs, and artwork related to environmental issues such as pollution, deforestation, and climate change. These visual representations effectively communicated the urgent need for action and raised awareness among the attendees.

Conclusion:

The program organized by the Centre for Environmental Studies, Paryavaran Mitra: Eco Club in association with IQAC, was a resounding success in raising awareness about environmental conservation and sustainable practices. The engaging activities, including the inspiring talk, the establishment of a medicinal garden, the unveiling of the e-newsletter, and the visual presentations, effectively conveyed the importance of protecting our environment for a better future. The participation of 93 students demonstrated their enthusiasm and commitment to environmental stewardship. Through such initiatives, the Centre for Environmental Studies and the Eco Club continue to make a significant impact on environmental education and consciousness within the community.
